SUNDAY SCRIPTURES: The following is the schema of readings for the month which we invite you to read as a prayerful preparation for the Sunday Eucharist:

- ⊕ Jan. 1: Num. 6:22-27; Gal. 4:4-7; Luke 2:16-21.
- ⊕ Jan. 8: Is. 60:1-6; Eph. 3:2-3, 5-6; Matt. 2:1-12.
- ⊕ Jan. 15: Is. 49:3, 5-6; 1 Cor. 1:1-3; John 1:29-34.
- ⊕ Jan. 22: Is. 8:23-9:3; 1 Cor. 1:10-13,17; Matt. 4:12-23.
- ⊕ Jan. 29: Zeph. 2:3; 3:12-13; 1 Cor. 1:26-31, 17; Matt. 5:1-12a.

SECOND FRIDAY: The monastic community will gather for the Adoration & Reconciliation on Friday, 13 January 2017. There will be the adoration of the Most Blessed Sacrament from 3-5 p.m. During that same time, a priest will be available for confessions.

OBLATES: The Oblates of St. Benedict will meet Sunday, 15 January 2017 on the lower level of Vincent House. For more information call Father Hilary 973.538.3231 [ext.2019] or e-mail him.

CHRISTIAN UNITY: Each year the Church calls us to prayer for unity among the various Christian denominations. The division among Churches scandalizes the world and damages an effective witness to the gospel. The restoration of unity among all Christians was a principal concern of the Second Vatican Council (Unitatis redintegratio, 21 November 1964). Benedictines have been leaders in the ecumenical movement from its nineteenth century origins. This monastic community observes the octave of prayer for Christian Unity with special intercessions at the Conventual Mass. Let us all pray with Christ "that all may be one, as you, Father, are one in me and I in you; I pray that they may be one in us, that the world may believe that you sent me" (John 17:21).

JANUARY SAINT: Elizabeth Ann Bayley was born in 1774 into a wealthy New York family of staunch Episcopalians. Her father, Dr. Richard Bayley, was the health inspector for New York City. At the age of 20 she married William Magee Seton, a wealthy shipping merchant. Together they had five children. When William's business fell on hard times, he, his wife Elizabeth and eldest daughter sailed for Italy to seek the aid of business associates. William's health deteriorated from tuberculosis and he died in quarantine at the Italian port of Livorno.

Elizabeth and daughter Anna Marie were taken in by the wealthy Italian friends, the Filicchis, devout Catholics. It was they who introduced the young American widow to Catholicism. Elizabeth was especially drawn to the Eucharist. On her return to New York she announced her plans to convert, to the horror of her family and friends, who, at the time, were among the anti-Catholic majority. Elizabeth pressed on but soon realized Catholicism was drawing her to a sympathetic venue, so she traveled to Baltimore.

Archbishop John Carroll convinced her to establish an American branch of the Daughters of Charity. She gladly undertook this task and soon pronounced vows, and was henceforth known as Mother Seton. Her foundation in Emmitsburg, Maryland grew quickly. The young foundress of the Sisters of Charity and the parochial school system in the United States died in 1821 of tuberculosis, and was the Mother to some twenty convents.

As her cause for canonization advanced, Pope Paul VI waived the required third miracle. In his homily at the canonization, 14 September 1975, the Pope said: May the dynamism and authenticity of her life be an example in our day-and for generations to come-of what women can and must accomplish, in the fulfillment of their role, for the good of humanity. Finally we must recall that the most notable characteristic of our Saint is the fact that she was...the foundress of the first Religious Congregation of women in the United States...The apostolate of helping the poor and the running of parochial schools in America had this humble, poor, courageous and glorious beginning.

MARCH FOR LIFE: Each year students and faculty travel to the nation's capital to protest the legalization of abortion. The day includes a rally and march along Constitution Avenue to the Supreme Court. You are invited to join us for the March for Life on Friday, 27 January 2017. Following a Mass at St. Joseph's, Mendham, a bus will depart. A donation is requested to defray the cost of the bus. For reservations, call Dr. David Hajduk at 973.538.3231 [ext. 3015] or e-mail him.
